TELEGRAPHIC.

REGINA, August 17.

The second reading of Mowat's school bill was carried on Monday evening by fifteen to eight. This bill substitutes the executive committee as council of public institution for the board of education the new system of school grants remains but the amounts are changed from $360 to $396 and from $25 to $22.

A large number of bills are in and the evening sessions are now held.

Public accounts brought down to-day.

WINNIPEG, August 18.

Jos. Lupier died at Stillwater, Michigan, of fatal cholera.

Savard independent carried Chicoutimi for the use of commons by 17.

It is said that the Bishop of Moosomin is out to return to England for good.

Vancouver will vote a bonus of $300,000 for connection with the Northern Pacific.

It is reported on good authority that the Earl of Aberdeen will succeed Stanley as governor-general.

Gladstone's cabinet has been officially announced and consists of Earl Roseberry, Baron Herschel, Sir W. Harcourt, Henry Asquith, Lord Ripon, Campbell Bannerman, Earl Spencer, John Morley, Sir Geo. Trevelyan, Mundell, H. Fowler, Arnold Morley, Earl Kimberley, H. D. Auckland and Lord Loughton.

FAX CONCERT COMPANY.

The Fax concert company had an enthusiastic reception and their efforts to amuse the audience met with unstinted applause. The ladies were tired and again, and Messrs. Fax's and Cameron's songs were, to quote and American contemporary, "too funny for anything." All houses are the order of the day, and the accomplished pianist, Miss Martin, adds considerably to the attractions of an already favorite company. Last night's concert had just got properly under way when the toll of the fire bell was heard, the audience immediately left the hall and "They never came back." A different programme will be given each night.

ANOTHER SOUTH SIDE PETITION.

DEAR SIR:—On calling at the terminus of the C. & E. Railway I was requested to sign a petition which had for its object the re-opening of the old trail to Fort Saskatchewan on the south side of the river. The petition was mostly signed by people who never use the said trail, and as the re-opening of the old trail means the cutting up of some dozen farms, I would suggest that instead of wasting money and time on petitions, the petitioners should subscribe a few dollars apiece and put it on the proper road allowance. I beg to enclose my card and ever yours truly,
J. C.
Cover Bar, August 17th, 1892.

The following is part of a paper read by R. Laugh, of the North West Farmer at a meeting at Portage la Prairie:

"It is quite certain seed cut very green will germinate all right, for nature always tries to make the best of a bad job. The nutritive matter that is slowly travelling up the straw does not stand still when the grain is cut green. It all goes on. But we need to have this point fully tested at the experimental farms before we can be sure that be bright, because only cut wheat makes as good seed as that cut at fuller maturity."

It is said 300,000,000 pounds of butter are produced annually as soap grease in America, being too poor for consumption as food. This opens a wide door for imitation butter, which is at least not rancid, although it has but little flavor.

LOCAL.

ROBERT STRACHAN died on Tuesday night from heart failure.

GEO. K. LEESON, of Leeson & Scott, Calgary, arrived on Monday's train.

THE Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church held a pic-nic at Groat's yesterday.

E. R. RODGERS, clerk of the supreme court of Alberta, captained the Calgary cricket eleven on Tuesday.

THE children of the Edmonton convent held a pic-nic at St. Albert yesterday, and spent a most enjoyable time.

THE funeral of the late Robert Strachan will leave the residence of A. H. Rumball at 2 o'clock, to-morrow, Friday, the 19th inst.

MR. GRAHAM, who has Lang's place at Fort Saskatchewan, was cutting oats on Wednesday, and his wheat was ready for harvesting.

THE 15th was a very poor day for sportsmen, it rained most of the day, yet some returned with very good bags, and report ducks plentiful.

MACKLIN and Gwinn, Washington Territory, who came in last week, have been inspecting our country and are delighted with it, especially Stony Plain.

Two or three rigs loaded with Calgary people drove out by the St. Albert and Sturgeon river settlements. They pronounced the crops the best they have ever seen.

MONDAY evening saw a large influx of visitors into the town—settlers, the cricket and base ball teams with their supporters and the Fax Concert Company formed a goodly crowd which the accommodation was almost inadequate to convey across the river.

THE steamer "Minnow" belonging to Lamoureux Bros., arrived in Fort Saskatchewan on the 9th with machinery for their saw mills. She arrived at Edmonton last Tuesday on her way up the river to winter quarters. The machinery will be taken overland to the bush.

Tuesday's weather was marred by showers, but the day broke fine and a fair attendance of spectators turned out to the sports. Edmonton base ball team proved the stronger, while Calgary cricketers reversed the position by beating the home team. Both teams will be on their mettle at the return matches.

FITZGERALD & LUCAS, agents for the sale of C. P. R. lands in Alberta, received a telegram this week from L. A. Hamilton, C. P. R. land commissioner, requesting them to secure as complete a collection of grasses and grain in the straw as possible, for exhibition at Toronto, Kingston, Montreal and other eastern points. M. McCauley has been entrusted to make the collection, and from his successes in this line, in the past, it need not be said that it will be well done.

THE Edmonton baseball and cricket teams gave their Calgary friends a supper in the Jasper House, on Tuesday night, after the matches. Mayor McCauley in the chair proposed the toast of the "Queen," then "The Calgary boys," in making some very appropriate remarks hoped they would come to Edmonton often. Mr. Rodgers replied for the cricket team and Mr. Bannerman, in the absence of Mr. Tarrant, replied for the baseballers. The "Edmonton Boys" was then proposed by Mr. Rodgers, reply by F. Slocock for the cricketers and W. Patton for the baseballers. A most enjoyable evening of songs and speeches was spent in which Messrs. Fax and Cameron, of the concert company, contributed a great deal of amusement. The party broke up after giving a vote of thanks to Mr. Goodridge.

Mr. Gladstone will probably be the oldest prime minister that has taken office in Great Britain. As a rule, his predecessors have retired from active leadership soon after seventy, if they attained that age, and for the most part they have not lived many years beyond it. Some of them have been cut down in their prime, like Pitt, Canning, Peel and others. Mr. Gladstone is the only instance of an English statesman forming four cabinets.

CRICKET.

The baseball match on Tuesday did not commence till much later than was expected and did not finish till after one p. m. It commenced to rain just as the cricket teams got on the field, but as the day was so far spent the cricketers commenced in spite of the rain. Calgary won the toss and went in to bat. Hardisty and Campbell bowled but could do very little on account of the slippery state of the ball. At 2 o'clock the players stopped for luncheon and in the interval the sun came out and dried things pretty well. Calgary's first wicket fell for 16, the 4th and 5th for 47, the 6th and 7th for 51, when Rodgers and Pavey got together and made a good stand and ran the score to 101. Rogers was bowled by Hardisty. The 9th wicket fell without any more being added, and the innings closed for 106 including 13 extras. When the Edmonton team went in rain commenced again but soon stopped. Slocock played a very fine game for his 17 when caught behind the wickets. Pattison played steadily for his 12 and Braine who ran his 9 up in a very short time was bowled by Cuffling. Prothero made a very fine catch at square leg. This is the first time Calgary has visited Edmonton with a cricket eleven and the return match is expected to come off early in September when F. Hardisty will take his team to Calgary.

POINTERS ABOUT CHEESE.

North West Farmer, Aug. 5: An Ontario cheese factor, who has been in England, recently, gives the eastern makers the following advice:

Dealing first with the color of the cheese, he says the larger part of the June and July make is consumed in the Scotch and north of England markets, where the color required is straw to deep straw. For this he suggests one and a quarter ounces of annatto per 1,000 pounds of milk. Canadian fall-made cheese are largely consumed in the London and Liverpool districts, which take about half white and half coloured, and in the west of England, where no coloured is used. The larger part of the fall make, it is therefore recommended, should be made white, the remainder being a little higher in colour than mentioned above, say a quarter ounce more annatto to the 1,000 pounds. White cheese have brought from 1s. to 2s. per cwt. more than coloured during the winter; and a further objection to the making of too many highly colored cheese is that it is liable to fade and become irregular in colour, so causing a deterioration in value.

Many boxes do not fit the cheese closely, and almost all are made of too light timber. Cracked surfaces are also detrimental to the value of the cheese, and the use of head cloths is advised during July and August or even later, and "followers" should fit the hoops exactly so as to make a neat face on the cheese. Brands should be small and neatly put on, and white and coloured cheese should not under any circumstances be chipped under the same mark or letter. Selling should be done while goods are fresh, and all cheese should be shipped before damaged by heat in the factories. Butter finds most ready sale in winter, and should be made when cheese-making ceases, during the last three winter months of the year, to permit shipping while fresh.

Some of these hints are worthy the attention of makers here, though their market is found to the west and not in England.

The following is part of a paper read by R. Waugh, of the Northwest Farmer, at Portage la Prairie: "It is quite certain seed cut very green will germinate all right, for nature always tries to make the best of a bad job? The nutritive matter that is slowly travelling by the straw does not stand still when the grain is cut green. It still goes on. But we need to have this point more fully tested at the experimental farms before we can be sure that be bright, because early cut wheat makes as good seed as that cut at fuller maturity."

It is said 300,000,000 pounds of butter are used annually as soap grease in America, being too poor for consumption as food. This opens a wide door for imitation butter, which is at least not rancid, although it has but little flavor.

Passenger train No. 17, south-bound, was held up by train robbers six miles east of Collis, Cal., on the 5th. The robbers then forced open the safe and took out the money. The amount is not known.

Returns show that 14,897 immigrants have arrived and settled in Manitoba for the seven months ending July 31, and that 4538 immigrants arrived in Manitoba during July.

Vance Georgens, barrister, Portage la Prairie, who went to Winnipeg a few days ago and took bichloride of gold treatment, died suddenly on the 8th.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

REGINA, August 10.

WEDNESDAY.

McKay presented a petition to incorporate the very Rev. Albert Pascal, bishop of the diocese of Saskatchewan. The standing orders committee reported that the petition be received.

Dill was added to the agricultural committee.

Davidson gave notice of an address to the lieutenant governor asking for all papers concerning the formation of health districts.

Magrath gave notice of an address asking the lieutenant governor for all papers regarding the claim of one Fuller for compensation by loss of glandered horses, and motion for a committee to consider Fuller's claim.

Myers gave notice of motion regarding opening a trail from Yorkton to Prince Albert.

Mowat introduced amendments to the ordinance.

Haultain made a motion to provide for evening sittings when necessary.

Haultain introduced amendments to the marriage ordinance.

The standing committee on agriculture reported that a dairy association meeting for the North-West would be held at Regina before the close of the session, and that the assembly should make an appropriation toward the expenses.

Oliver said that distant parts of the Territories could not profitably avail themselves of this meeting, and it was unfair to take money from the whole territories of which only part could avail themselves. On the question coming to a vote the report was carried, Magrath, Lineham, Wilkins, Prince, Chickskill and Oliver voting nay.

House adjourned.

THURSDAY.

Betts gave notice of asking the executive committee if it was their intention to amend the infectious diseases ordinance.

Cayley gave notice of a committee to memorialize the Dominion government regarding land titles offices in the Territories.

The motions of which notice was given yesterday were moved, except Magrath's regarding claims for compensation for glandered horses, which was held over on Reaman's suggestion that the proposed enquiry include all claims for compensation for loss of glandered horses.

The bill respecting schools was introduced by Mr. Mowat was laid before the house in pamphlet form and will be taken up for consideration as to second reading on Monday.

Page's bill to amend and consolidate the agricultural societies ordinance was laid before the house printed. Page moved the second reading. The only important amendment was as to the returns to be made to Regina.

Betts objected to the second reading being proceeded with so soon after the first opportunity that the members had to see the bill. He thought the rule should be laid down that the bills should be in the hands of the members in printed form at least a day before they were asked to pronounce on the principle contained by assenting to or refusing the second reading.

The second reading stood over.

Haultain in reply to Cayley said that arrangements had been made to supply all newspapers in the territories with copies of the bills as soon as they were laid before the house.

House adjourned.

As a rule it is useless to say anything about prices in an advertisement as each claims to sell cheaper than his neighbor and such statements are usually taken for what they are worth. But as regards any of the above lines I intend to excel for this season any way, and a comparison of goods and prices will certainly convince the most skeptical that there has been a revolution in prices.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

Regina, August 12.

FRIDAY.

Jelly rose to a question of privilege. On a previous date Haultain had said that the reason certain action was not taken was because he (Jelly) had made the recommendation too late for action under the law. He desired to say after informing himself fully on the matter, 1st; that action was required by the ordinance, without his recommendation, that his recommendation was not made too late, giving figures in proof.

Haultain replied that the fact of Jelly's having made the recommendation implied that it was necessary and reiterated this first statement that the application arrived too late for action.

Amendments to license ordinance were considered in committee.

Cayley's amendment to fix the salaries of license inspectors at Regina was adopted.

Haultain's amendment raising the limit of sale by wholesale from $\frac{1}{2}$ gallon to one gallon and from 1 quart or two pint bottles to $\frac{1}{2}$ dozen quart or one dozen pint bottles was carried by a large majority after a sharp debate.

Knowling's amendment to require instead of ten signatures from the nearest twenty householders, for the granting of a license outside towns was defeated.

Page's amendment to relieve licenses applying after the usual time from payment of inspectors expenses, was carried.

Several other amendments of detail were made.

The bill will be considered again to-morrow. Page's bill regarding agricultural societies was read a second time.

A Montreal dispatch announces that the amount of interest taken in the Canadian North-West may be gathered from the fact that five American journalists from Eastern States arrived in that city on July 22d, en route for Edmonton, to write up the Greater Britain beyond the Lakes. The newspaper men are accompanied by a score or so of excursionists.

John L. Sullivan is getting rid of his superfluous flesh rapidly. He was weighed after an eight-mile walk lately, and tipped the beam at 211 $\frac{1}{2}$ pounds, and was feeling remarkably well. John McVeary, a well-known Philadelphia wrestler, says he never saw a fighter in better condition than Corbett is at present. He also says that Corbett's activity and science will be of great advantage to him in his fight with Sullivan.

The cholera is making rapid strides in N'n-jini, Novogod, and merchants and traders are fleeing from the great fair, abandoning their goods in dismay. The deaths from cholera at Novogod average 80 a day. Hospital accommodations are wretchedly inadequate for the sick, and another hospital building is being erected with the greatest haste. A state of siege has been declared and the military have taken entire control.

BAGPIPES IN NEW YORK.

The shrieking of a bagpipe was the occasion of a great popular serenade in West Twenty-first and West Twenty-second streets, New York. The object was to silence the bagpipe, but the effort appears to have been a flat failure.

The shrill music of the pipes has been issuing every evening since the beginning of summer from one of the tall flat houses just west of Eighth avenue, and as, during the hot weather lately, all windows have been wide open, the strident tones penetrated than ever before.

The neighbors didn't know who the piper was, but were sure they could drown his melody. The small boys got together a great stock of the horns, whistles, tin-pans and other noise-making paraphernalia, and waited upon the roofs and in upper windows for the music to begin.

It began soon after 7 o'clock, and the air was at once filled with all sorts of unearthly noises. Windows were thrown up, and people who had not been a party to the original conspiracy leaned out to see what it was all about, and, catching the idea, at once joined in.

After a long search it was found out Arthur M. Ross was the piper. He is a carpenter, and lives on the top floor, back of the big apartment house, No. 309 West Twenty-first street. Mr. Ross is a Scotchman, and is an enthusiastic member of the Caladonian club. He plays the pipes at Scottish games, and competes for prizes against all comers.

Her Majesty not only received Mrs. Rix, the aged negress, who travelled all the way from Liberia, on the West Coast of Africa to see the Queen, whom, in the old days of slavery, all women in bondage regarded as "their mother," because they knew that wherever she held sway the slave-driver's whip never cracked and freedom was the right of all, but spoke to her and kindly listened to the recital of her early days of slavery before she found a home in Liberia. Mrs. Rix had for the last fifty years been saving up to pay her visit to England to see Queen Victoria. She had no hope of ever speaking to Her Majesty, but trusted to be able to see her as she drove past in her carriage. When the adventures and travels of Mrs. Rix became known, the Queen invited her to visit Windsor and received her in the Castle. The Prince and Princess of Wales and their daughters were present during the visit. For Mrs. Rix and those who accompanied her luncheon was served in the Lancaster tower and they were afterwards shown through the Royal apartments and library. The aged voyager left the Castle deeply impressed with Her Majesty's condescension and full of wonder at the beauties of the Palace.

Sporadic cases of small-pox continue to be reported in New York, and recently there were two deaths from the disease. Officers of the health department say there is no danger of the disease spreading as the sanitary arrangements made for the removal of the patients are such as to render infection almost impossible.

A movement is on foot among the Royal Templars of Temperance to secure a provincial plebiscite vote on the question of the prohibition of the importation, of the sale and manufacture of intoxicating liquors in Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward's Island and the western provinces.

BASEBALL.

The match between Edmonton and Calgary was played in beautiful weather, and a very good game was played, considering the home team has had very little practice and they at one time seemed to have given up all thoughts of base ball and stopped practicing entirely until the challenge came from Calgary; then they turned out for a few nights.

At the eight innings, Edmonton stood 18 to Calgary's 9, but through some bad fielding of one or two Edmonton players, Calgary pulled up fast and the game closed Edmonton, 20; Calgary, 17. W. Patton, W. Clark and Dr. Harrison played a very good game, but the victory is due principally to Pattison's fine pitching. For Calgary, Kenniston and Lashbrook did well in the field. W. Patton made the only home run of the day.

FIRE.

The question of the day is, was this fire an accident or not? No one seems to be able to answer the question. When the facts are known of this fire let everyone judge for himself. Let us first review the past; inside of 33 days we have had no fewer than six fires. The first took place in an unoccupied building in the middle of the night, but was got out before much damage was done. The second burned S. S. Taylor's unoccupied residence to the ground. The causes of those are unknown yet very obvious. The third took place in Goodridge's hotel when an over heated stove set fire to the floor. The fourth just got a start at the sills of Hetu's hotel. The fifth took place in Reid & Kelly's stable, when someone set fire to the hay; and the sixth took place last night when the furniture store and residence of M. G. Connor, and the store of A. H. Martin were burned to the ground. The fire was seen first by Arch. Cameron, night watchman, about 9:15, when he was at McCauley's yard, not 100 yards from it, and he immediately gave the alarm.

Last night Mrs. and Miss Connor had just gone to the concert but a short time, and M. G. Connor had not left his building more than ten minutes when the fire broke out. On going back to his building—and about the first there—Connor saw the fire was in a room at the back of his store; the fire engine arrived on the spot quickly, but was no earthly use to extinguish it, all that could be done was to take away the lumber that was round Martin's building and carry it across the street out of the way. Blankets were hung over Gallagher's building, which was only about 30 feet from Martin's and kept saturated with water, and water was kept playing on the side of the building. After Connor's building fell in Martin's was pushed over with long poles on to it so as to keep the fire back from Gallagher's. The fire then gradually subsided. Gallagher had just finished plastering the side of his building next the fire about half an hour before it broke out, and this probably saved the whole of Edmonton. Burning coals were flying but not far. This was one of the few fires that took place without a wind. The tin on the front of Edmiston's building across the street from Connor's became so hot at one time that water had to be kept on it to keep the wood under the tin from burning. A party stayed on the top of Ibbotson & Kernohan's building and kept themselves well supplied with water. Connor's building was all locked up and there had been no fire in it since noon. There was lots of material in the building that would catch fire easily, but how it did catch is a mystery.

About 9:15, p.m., as Mr. and Mrs. Sharples, in one rig, and E. Looby, in another, got to the top of D. Ross' hill, 200 yards from Connor's, they saw a man making very quick time down the hill towards the river by a bridle path. This man might or might not have set the fire, but it would take a great deal of anxiety off some of our mind if he would return and explain his sudden flight.

The insurance on the buildings fell very far short of the loss. Connor's building and stock of furniture were insured by the Etna and Royal Insurance Companies for $4,000, and A. H. Martin's holds a policy for $200 by the Eastern Assurance Company.

The only things saved were a few articles of furniture and the papers contained in the safe.

Mrs. and Miss Connor and M. G. Connor have the sympathy of the whole community.
